

Cracklin' Mats 101

Scrape up those vintage crumbs and play with Mary Kerr as she shares some of her favorite techniques for using up every scrap of fabric. This workshop encourages participants to showcase tiny vintage fragments that may seem too small to save. In a Southern kitchen, Cracklin's are those little bits of goodness that are left in the pan after cooking. Students may bring their own vintage fragments or they may purchase a kit of their choice in class. Finished sizes will vary.
